

ISO 9001:2000 CERTIFICATION

The Central Food Technological Research Institute under ISO 9001:2000 quality standards has been on a path of continuous improvement to ensure a quality-based performance with a focus towards customer satisfaction.

NABL ACCREDITATION

Since 2001, the laboratory has been accredited to National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories, Department of Science and Technology, Govt. of India under ISO-17025 : 2005 management system.

As required under the ISO-17025 system, the laboratory has participated in various proficiency testing programmes, inter-laboratory comparison programmes and internal quality checks for various test parameters which have established the competence of the laboratory in performing the accredited tests.

ENVIRONMENT MANAGEMENT SYSTEM ISO 14001

The institute has been certified under ISO 14001 since 2002. Periodic internal and external audits were conducted for the effective implementation of the system. Necessary guidance was obtained from Karnataka State Pollution Board for handling air, water, bio-medical wastes, e-wastes and other hazardous wastes.

