Some of these journals may be available in your hospital library, or photocopies of specific articles may be obtained using inter-library facilities (please ask your librarian for details).

The Chartered Society of Physiotherapy is also developing its own resource centre and special physiotherapy journals collection. In case of difficulty photocopies from physiotherapy journals may be supplied by the CSP on request (but please obtain them from libraries wherever possible). A charge will be made by the CSP for this service, and because of copyright law no more than one article may be supplied from any issue. Contact: Samantha Molloy, information assistant, CSP Education Department.

Physiotherapy is a peer-reviewed Journal which is indexed in Physiotherapy Index (AMED), CINAHL and EMBASE/Excerpta Medica.

The figures at the end of each entry are the first and last page numbers.
