

How to check licence conditions for eJournals

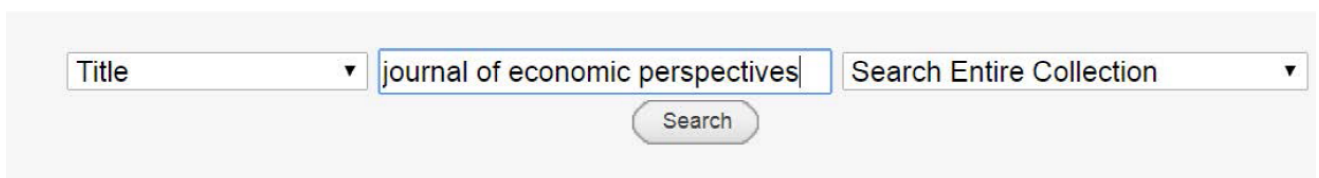

To find out if you're allowed to use a copy of an eJournal in a course pack or on the LMS, check the Library Catalogue for information about the licence or terms of use.

1. Go to the Library homepage and click on the link for the catalogue.

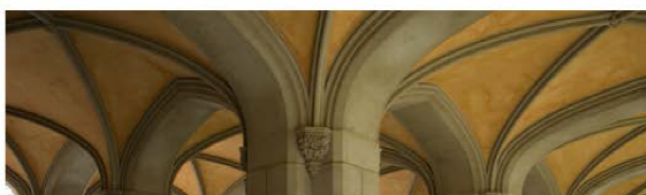

The screenshot shows a dark blue navigation bar with a home icon and links for LIBRARIES, NEWS & EVENTS, and ABOUT. Below the bar, there are three columns of links: Resources (Subject Research Guides (LibGuides), Reference), Searching (Catalogue, A-Z eJournals and databases), and Students (Borrowing information, Student IT support). The 'Catalogue' link is circled in orange.

2. Select Title from the drop-down menu and enter the journal title. Click on Search.

The screenshot shows a search interface with a dropdown menu set to 'Title', a text input field containing 'journal of economic perspectives', and a dropdown menu set to 'Search Entire Collection'. A 'Search' button is located below the input field.

To find out if you can make copies of articles available on the LMS, check the section titled E-Reserves/LMS. If it states “electronic links only” this means that you can only link to articles. If it states “Yes: reasonable portion” this means that you can make articles available. However, the definition of reasonable portion varies from journal to journal. We recommend that 1 journal article from a journal issue or 2 or more articles on the same topic would most likely be considered a reasonable portion.
